Small Account CHALLENGE

Trading is Risky. Most Traders Lose Money. Read our Full Disclaimer.

Pre-Trading Checklist

- ☐ Did you eat & sleep well?
- ☐ Are you in a good mood?
- ☐ Do you have a stock that you think looks good this morning based on your strategy?
- ☐ What is the condition of the overall market for your strategy?
- ☐ Have you printed out an A-Quality setup and have it pinned next to your computer?
- ☐ Have you printed out your metrics and track record from SIM trading? (This is going to be your motivation to stay focused when the market challenges you).
- ☐ Are you willing to not take any trades if nothing looks good?
- ☐ Are you restricting the number of trades today? If yes, what is max number ____.

Remember, trading is a marathon, not a sprint. Trading in a small account is about proof of concept. Can you be disciplined enough to take one trade a day and grow the account slowly? Can you manage your risk and cut losses quickly? If you can, your confidence will grow as you gain experience and continue to keep your head above water.

Quality Setups for the Small Account Challenge

Below are some of Ross's favorite patterns to trade in a Small Account. Remember that knowing and understanding these patterns needs to be combined with additional analysis to determine if and when to take a trade. Factors like volume, news catalysts, and more are critical in addition to the chart pattern. You can learn more about Technical Analysis in our free guide.
